Truce Talks Come To Crisis In Korea

National Guards May Be Sent To Korea As Rotation Speeds Up

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army may be planning on sending two National Guard divisions in Japan on to Korea eventually as it steps up the program of taking battle-weary soldiers out of action.

This appeared today to be one of the possible methods to be used in an accelerated rotation program which by next November will have taken about 112,000 veterans of long fighting out of the battle line.

Replacements Going Out

Use of Guard divisions, however, presumably would be only part of the general program, the primary method being the present rotation system—returning soldiers with long service, on an individual basis, with replacements going out from training camps in the United States.

The Army announced yesterday that a total of 32,000 officers and men had left the Far East for the U. S. up to July 10 and that the rate of rotation of each of the next three months would be 30,000.

The 112,000 veterans to be rotated by next Fall will come out of a total combat force probably not much greater than 150,000 men. This includes the equivalent of about six or seven divisions and other separate units, such as corps artillery.

Army officials declined to say precisely how they expect to keep up the combat effectiveness of the forces in Korea, but they expressed confidence that it could be done. The formal announcement commented that the rate of rotation would depend not only on the arrival of individual replacements but "also upon the necessary to maintain the combat effectiveness of units."

Thus it seemed apparent that whether a man may have seen long months of service would not be the only deciding factor in the question of sending him home. The Far East commanders also must decide how many men can be released from combat duty without stripping a unit of an adequate number of battle-wise soldiers.

Officials say the replacements now going to Korea under the Rotation program are far better trained, more nearly ready for front-line service, than the men who were hurried to the Far East in the first months of the war.

Virginia Anxious To Reach Chile

Government Claims She Owes $161,000

SPOKANE, Wash.— (AP) —As far as Virginia Hill is concerned, the government can have her furs, her pearls and her house.

"I want to give them everything so I can get out of here," the former girl friend of the slain gangster Bugsy Siegel, said yesterday.

The government announced Miss Hill's $35,000 house and many of her valuable personal belongings will be put on the public auction block Aug. 2 and 3. They will go toward paying the $161,000 in back income taxes the internal revenue department claims from her.

Miss Hill, now the wife of Austrian ski instructor Hans Hauser, said all she wants is to fly to Chile to join her husband and their baby. Hauser was ordered to leave the United States recently after over-staying his visitor's permit.

A notice of the auction in the postoffice today listed the items to be sold. Besides the Roman brick, ranch-style house, they included: three fur coats—two mink and one Persian lamb; four fur stoles—three mink and one sable; three strings of pearls; many electric appliances; skis and fishing rods; a .25 automatic; ten trunks; 15 pounds of coffee and 15 boxes of soap flakes.

Bases In Spain Granted To U. S.

Britain And France Oppose Agreement

MADRID, Spain — (AP) — The United States was reported driving ahead today toward American use of Spanish air and naval bases—despite French and British opposition.

Authoritative sources, last night said the U. S. and the Franco government had reached a basic agreement to use Iberian bases for western defense. A special U. S. mission, they added, soon will come here to work out details.

The informants said the agreement, which does not involve in outright Spanish-American alliance, was reached Tuesday during a four-hour conference between Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, American chief of naval operations.

Britain and France not only oppose the U. S. plan to acquire Spanish bases, but have objected to Spain's association with any member of the Atlantic Pact.

(Dispatches from London and Paris said both the French and British felt any association by an Atlantic Pact power with the Franco government would provide Russia with a prime propaganda weapon because millions in Europe view the Franco regime as completely fascist.

(The French reportedly also fear that aid to Spain will reduce the amount of material they will receive from the United States.)

Nude Bathing Party At Lansing Fatal To Wife Of Korean GI

LANSING—(AP)—Two men were held in jail today for further questioning into the drowning of a Korean war veteran's wife on a nude swimming party in a gravel pit.

Sheriff Willard P. Barnes said he had discovered no evidence of foul play in the death of Mrs. Maxine L. Parks, 19, but suspected the drowning might have been due "more to negligence" by her swimming companions.

He said Mrs. Parks' husband now is fighting in Korea.

Barnes ordered Robert Hall, 21 and Willard Peterman, 24, both of Lansing, held for further questioning. He said their stories conflicted.

Barnes said Mrs. Parks, Hall, Peterman, Robert L. Richman, 34, and Mrs. Joyce Nichols, 17, participated in an outign at the gravel pit south of Lansing Tuesday night. He said the group drank beer and went swimming in the nude.

Shine Boy Paid $100 Tip; Pals Get $150

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — The well dressed stranger liked the shoe shine Dan Watson gave him and handed the 14-year-old boy a $100 bill yesterday.

Dan's eyes popped, and the jaws of his three companions dropped. The stranger peeled off $150 more to be split among Willie Sanders, 11, Chester Winters, 12, and Jimmie Jones, 11. Then he disappeared into the downtown crowd.

Bystanders called police, who took custody of the bills and tried to find the stranger.

The officers said the money would be turned over to the boys if unclaimed.

Army Post Housing For Families Filthy, Says Senate Report

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Many servicemen living with their families near big army posts are being gouged for sky-high rents to live "amidst appalling filth and indescribable squalor," Senate investigators said last night.

A report by the armed services subcommittee on preparedness was based on inspections made by its investigators on rented quarters near three large defense training centers.

Most Senate committee reports are a solid mass of type, but this one was illustrated with photos of some of the shacks being used for housing.

This was done, Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) said, because "some of the hovels were so hideous they could not be described adequately by mere words."

Numerous examples of crowded, filthy, and high-rent housing were cited at each of the three big training centers covered.

They included former barns, chicken coops, filling stations, garages, coal sheds and other old buildings hastily converted for make-shift human occupation.

Among examples cited were these:

In one rat-infested former garage, the six-months old child of a sergeant was biten three times by rats and the child had to be treated at the post dispensary.

Another was an "old, dirty and rundown" hotel known as "The Firetrap" where 15 families of servicemen paid $50 a month for second-floor rooms. The report said the landlord was collecting $9,000 a year rental for "miserable accommodations in a building worth half that amount."

Con Man Makes $350,000 Haul

Victims Taken In By Bribery Scheme

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Senator Hoey (D-NC) said he expects sworn testimony today that "professional confidence man" fleeced a string of "gullible victims" out of about $350,000.

Hoey put it that way in a statement prepared for the start of public hearings on the matter by a Senate investigations subcommittee which he heads. The group, on expenditures subcommittee, has broad powers to make investigations.

Hoey declared the victims would not have been taken in if they "had not been willing to lend themselves to a scheme which involved the proposition of bribery."

The North Carolina senator said the alleged "con man" has "a long criminal record." He said the man's most lucrative line apparently was in convincing people the government was going to build new office quarters underground to escape an atomic attack and that he could obtain leases on present buildings.

The inquiry group subpoenaed the man and five persons he purportedly victimized. The witnesses were said to include representatives of a New York church group, a Boston contractor, a Philadelphian who works for a foreign language newspaper; and a New York businessman. The central figure is reportedly a New Yorker who spends several days a week in Washington.

Weary House Nears End Of Battle Over Economic Controls

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON — (AP)—House members, tempers frayed by partisan bitterness, today neared the end of their long battle over wage, price, rent and other economic controls.

Administration leaders were hopeful of getting down to final voting tonight on a much-amended bill in which they have won some tentative victories, suffered more defeats.

One of these came yesterday when the House voted to ban all price controls which would not allow a "reasonable profit." If finally enacted into law this might cause a review of the thousands of ceiling prices fixed by the office of price stabilization (OPS), to take into account cost-plus-profit data on all farm and industrial products.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle assailed the action as "the most damaging blow to price controls" thus far taken. He called it a "cost-plus-guaranteed-profit-on-every-item" plan.

Speaking in support of the amendment, Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) asked the House: "What is wrong with profits? How do you expect to get the production we need to beat inflation without reasonable profits?"

Republicans and Democrats alike were conscious of the political implications contained in their decisions on wages and prices. Party leaders made no bones of their hopes that the record in the controls fight will sharply define the fundamental party differences on which political victory may hinge in 1952.

Still to be decided—probably today—were proposed changes in rent and credit controls. These were the principal remaining controversies in the House consideration of a new controls bill to succeed the defense production act. It expires July 31.

Worst Flood Waters In Century Rushing Down On St. Louis, Mo.

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The highest flood waters in more than a century rushed down the Missouri River Valley toward St. Louis today.

The waters are sweeping down from the flood-stricken areas of Kansas and Eastern Missouri where overflows caused an estimated $750,000,000 loss.

The swollen Mississippi already damaged St. Louis River front industry.

But the biggest mass of water still was harrasing Central Missouri.

Capital Deluged

At Jefferson City, the state capital, some 30 blocks were submerged. Other blocks had some water.

Electric service to the capitol and other state buildings was curtailed as water inched into the state power plant.

The Missouri Power and Light company plant, which serves the rest of the town, had water on the floor, but company officials said sandbags would keep out the main flood and permit operation to a stage of 38 feet. The Missouri River was expected to reach a 35-foot stage at Jefferson City this morning.

The Mississippi here has been high for two weeks. Three boys drowned in backwaters of that river south of East St. Louis, Ill., yesterday — bringing to 26 the number of dead from floods n the Midwest.

Crest Due Sunday

The worst is yet to come here. The weather bureau expects a stage of 40.5 Sunday—highest since the unofficial reading of 41.39 on June 27, 1844. The expected crest would top the 40.3 reading set here in 1947 when flooding caused $9,000,000 damage.

At Kansas City and in Kansas rescue workers and others continued their task of cleaning up the damage left by the floods last week. Water still was standing in many areas.

The Kansas City Municipal airport was reopened to planes of less than 12,500 pounds. Runways were too spongy for heavier aircraft.

Evacuation of 13,000 animals trapped in the stockyards district was completed today. The work went on around the clock since Monday.

A last ditch fight to save a major railroad bridge at Kansas City appeared successful.

Comes In Windows

Several hundred persons have been taken from their homes in the western part of Jefferson City and across the Missouri in Cedar City. At a few places in the state capital water lapped at the top of first floor windows.

An estimated $1,000,000 already has been spent in the St. Louis area largely for sandbagging moving equipment and supplies and other preparations for high water.

With the two weeks warning received here city officials believe the total flood damage may be held down.

Factories along the waterfront are surrounded by water. Several railroad freight yards are covered, forcing the railroads to curtail operations. Tracks for passenger trains from the east were in no danger.

The main business district and nearly all the residential areas are on high ground safe from floods.

A Missouri river flood by itself probably could have been handled by the Mississippi here and below but the Mississippi was already above flood stage because of heavy rains in Iowa and northern Missouri in June and July.

Homer Mine Idled By Strike Of 250

IRON RIVER, Mich. — (AP) — Two hundred fifty employes of the M. A. Hanna company's Homer iron mine walked off their jobs today in a dispute over demotion of a trammer boss, Matt Today.

Company officials said the men protested Today's transfer from his underground job to a surface maintenance crew. Union officials were not immediately available for comment.

Operations at the mine were at a standstill.

Million-Dollar Patch Of Marijuana Found In South Louisiana

FRANKLIN, La.—(AP)— Federal narcotics agents were expected here today to view a "million-dollar" marijuana patch and to question the Negro tenant farmer who cultivated the narcotic weed.

Officers discovered the contraband crop yesterday near Baldwin, in South Louisiana. Some of the Marijuana stalks were 14 feet tall, officers said.

Police estimated the crop would have yielded more than 1,000,000 cigarets, which retail in the illicit market at $1 each.

No charges were filed immediately, pending arrival of federal agents.

An investigation was started in the wake of reports that pupils in some Negro schools all the way from south central Louisiana to East Texas were smoking marijuana cigarets.

Michigan's Tax Setup Analyzed

George Bean Believes In Educating Public

EAST LANSING—(AP)—A pair of top state officials disagreed yesterday on the merits of Michigan's tax setup.

State Comptroller Robert E. Steadman pointed out some of the faults of the tax structure at the Michigan State college governmental workshop. State Treasurer D. Hale Brake defended the Michigan system.

Steadman found two main faults with the Michigan system. First, he said, the state has been going in the red for the past few years, thus proving there is something wrong with the tax structure.

Secondly, he complained that state taxes are not levied according to the ability of the citizen to pay.

Grand Rapids City Manager George Bean said the public should be educated to think of taxes not as a burden but as money paid for services rendered.

"The average person doesn't seem to understand he gets services from the government in return for taxes," Bean said.

The Grand Rapids city manager advocated more taxing power for local units of government.

"When you tax to fill needs at the local level you can tell the people where their money goes," Bean said.

Civil Service Ruling To Set Precedent On Firing In Michigan

LANSING—(AP)—The full civil service commission was asked to rule today on a firing that may set legal precedent in Michigan.

The appeal to the full commission followed a decision on the case made by the civil service hearing board. The board held that the former Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, now the Michigan Employment Security Commission, had the right to fire Frank Christensen, former Detroit branch manager.

Christensen was ordered discharged by federal civil service for allegedly violating the Federal Hatch Act by taking an active part in politics. A test case has been made of the firing and it is expected that appeals will be carried up through the federal courts to the U. S. supreme court.

The final decision would affect all state employes working for agencies supported by federal funds.

Mackinac Landmark Damaged By Blaze As Lightning Strikes

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich.—(AP)—St. Anne Catholic church, historic landmark on this island, was severely damaged by a lightning-caused fire last night.

The lightning set fire to the 16-foot cross atop the 140 foot steeple. It struck during a severe rain and hail storm.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than four hours before bringing it under control. Lacking ladders, they pointed streams of water at the big steeple.

The church, built 176 years ago, is visited by thousands of tourists annually.

Minister Tells Of Wanderings

Memory Comes Back At Wausau, Wis.

EAST PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) — A Methodist minister, missing from his Stambaugh, Mich. church for three months, blames a "blow on the head" for the alleged amnesia that caused his absence.

The Rev. Vernon S. Blackwell, 48, told his story here Wednesday through his wife, Letha, 47. He came here after he recovered his memory and learned that she was visiting friends.

The Rev. Blackwell, his wife said, was in Petoskey, Mich., April 8 enroute to a church school at Owosso, Mich., when he slipped in the rain and struck his head against "some object."

Either that night or the next day, she said, he destroyed all his identification papers because he could not connect himself with them. The first thing he remembered, she said, was waking up April 19 in a YMCA in Pittsfield, Mass.

He must have sold his 1950 model car, because he can recall no other way of getting money to live on. He remained in Pittsfield until July 9, she said.

His memory then was stirred by a newspaper picture of a little girl, Mrs. Blackwell said, and he came to Wausau, Wis. There a man who had married a member of his parish saw him.

After some conversation Blackwell began recalling his past. He telephoned the Rev. Ralph Guilliatt, who succeeded him at Stambaugh, and learned the whereabouts of his family.

Then, driving a model A Ford for which he must have traded his newer car, Mrs. Blackwell said, he came to East Peoria.

Peace Efforts Deadlocked On One Main Issue

No Accord Reached On Troop Removal

By ROBERT EUNSON

MUNSAN, Korea—(AP)—Korean cease-fire negotiations neared a crisis in a two-hour session today. "No progress" was made, the United Nations said.

Tomorrow's meeting will tell the story, an official spokesman predicted.

"We'll come to an agreement or there will be an air of finality about the disagreement," said Lt. Col. W. J. Preston.

"No Progress"

Neither the Communist nor the United Nations delegation would budge from its previous position on the one basic issue under debate, said Preston. He attended the sessions at Kaesong.

The issue is believed to be the Red demand that foreign troops withdraw from Korea, although no one has said so officially.

"Each side was very emphatic in its stand," said Preston.

Preston said his report had the approval of the United Nations command. Presumably this included Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. The supreme Allied commander flew back to Korea from his Tokyo headquarters in response to a message from his armistice negotiators.

The acuteness of the crisis was indicated by the official U. N. communique, which reported "no progress" for the first time since talks started July 10.

Convicts Get Lashes For Escape Attempt At Colorado Prison

CANON CITY, Colo — (AP) — Warden Roy Best said today that five convicts who attempted to shoot their way out of the Colorado state prison have been whipped with a leather strap six inches wide and two and a half feet long.

Denver Post Reporter Robert Stapp described it as a "savage whipping," but Best told The Associated Press: "It was not savage."

Stapp, who saw the prisoners after the whipping, said "we saw the marks of the lash. Their buttocks were one painful purple bruise. Their faces were cut and swollen."

The five prisoners, armed with knives and a pistol, tried to break out of the prison Monday. Two guards were wounded in an exchange of gunfire.

Best gave this description of the whipping by guards to The Associated Press:

"When they are spanked, a doctor is in attendance and they are not hit on any vital part of their body. They are hit only on the fat part of their buttocks. They are hit nowhere else. They are spanked eight, maybe 10 or 12 times."

How To Prevent Food Poisoning At Family Picnics

If you can't keep your picnic foods cold, or you can't keep them hot, then don't keep them long!

Food poisoning from improperly prepared and improperly refrigerated picnic foods make scores of Michigan people seriously ill each summer, Dr. Max Decker, food handling consultant, Division of Engineering, Michigan Department of Health, said today in issuing the above warning.

Food pisoning is caused by the growth of germs in food. The germs get into the food from unclean hands, towels, sanwich or meat boards, dishes, meat grinders, or can openers; from flies, mice or roaches; or from coughs or sneezes in the kitchen.

These germs multiply so fast at room temperature that an unrefrigerated dish of potato salad, sandwich spread or a slice of meat may become deadly in one hour's time, without any change in odor, taste or appearance.

Once the food has been contaminated, heating it or refrigerating it will not make it safe. Picnic foods which are particularly dangerus when not refrigerated are soft foods made with milk or eggs; any foods made with mayonnaise or salad dressing, gravies, cream filled pies or pastry and all meats, including fried chicken.

Cleanliness of hands, utensils and containers; care in preparation and coldness (below 50 degrees) from the time any part of the picnic food is prepared until all of it is eaten will prevent most food pisoning.

Men Enlisting Now Are Eligible For Guard Camp

Young men 17 to 35 years of age may enlist in the Delta county National Guard unit up to Saturday, August 4, and still be eligible to attend the 15-day encampment at Camp Grayling on Lake Margrethe, it was announced today. The camp period is from August 11 to 27.

Those who sign up after that date can not be processed in time to go to camp. While participating in field training, National Guardsmen receive fulltime Army pay plus an extra state remuneration. All expenses are paid at camp.

"Men who want to join the Guard and attend camp must hurry," Capt. Roy J. Johnson, commander of Company C, Escanaba, said this morning. "We have vacancies. Those joining now have a choice of jobs they would like to fill in the Guard.

Special Demonstrations

"The program at Camp Grayling is very interesting and varied. Men will have an opportunity to fire all types of individual and crew-served semi-automatic and automatic weapons used by the Engineers. Grayling, one of the best Guard camps in the United States, has 12 modern ranges.

"In addition to firing himself, the Guardsman will see special air power and field artillery demonstrations by Air National Guard and Fifth Army demonstration teams.'

Camp Grayling, now undergoing a vast improvement program, has facilities for a full division of 18,000 men. The Upper Michigan Engineers are attached to Michigan's 46th Infantry division which train there annually. Illinois National Guard units also train at Grayling.

Recreation Program

In addition to military training, a varied recreation program and special events have been planned. The Delta county unit will enter bowling, softball and volleyball teams in camp tournaments. Guardsmen have an opportunity to swim daily in Lake Margrethe, which has dock, raft and diving facilities.

Company C's weekly drills each Wednesday night are pointed toward preparation for the "motor march" to Camp Grayling August 10. Companies in Escanaba, Manistique, Calumet, Marquette and Ishpeming will rendezvous at the Manistique armory for a battalion convoy to Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stellwagen accompanied her to Marquette Tuesday where she made arrangements for the trip home and they were entertained there at the Wakeman home.

Uniform Traffic Ticket System Is Adopted Here

The Escanaba police department has completed plans to initiate the uniform traffic enforcement policy in Escanaba, G. S. Leonard, public safety director, reported this morning.

The system embraces the use of a traffic violation ticket that is being used in many cities of Michigan. The system provides for a hazard rating scale for each of the major violations that are the cause of 89 per cent of traffic accidents. The face of the ticket has printed upon it in relative order of importance each of the six violations. This constitutes a hazard rating, which is used as a framework in the administration and enforcement of the system.

Records Maintained

Conditions which increase hazards are indicated on the ticket and serve to increase penalties. Since judges have always sought to assess less severe fines for less severe violations and to increase the penalties for more serious violations, the system conforms to a pattern of uniformity.

Records of violators are compiled and as a person continues to violate over a 12 months period, his fines become progressively more severe. To give a true picture of a driver's fitness to operate a motor vehicle. a copy of the ticket and the position of the case is sent to the home town of the violator who are issued traffic tickets in other cities using the uniform traffic enforcement system will be subjected to stiffer penalties in Escanaba on subsequent violations. All cities using the uniform system exchange driver records.

All of the officers of the Escanaba department have been given an intensive 12 hour course on the use of the ticket and are familiar with the system.

The uniform enforcement system was developed by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police in 1945-46. Five pilots used the system until April 2, 1947 when formally approved by the association. The system has been endorsed by the Michigan Association of Municipal Judges and is now in use in a number of cities in Michigan. Escanaba is the first Upper Peninsula city to adopt the system, however .

Director Glenn Leonard said that the uniform traffic enforcement system will benefit the public in the following ways:

1. It takes the guesswork out of traffic enforcement.
2. It gives the good driver fair treatment on a first offense of a minor violation.
3. It serves to penalize the repeaters.
4. It publicizes the more dangerous and aggravating conditions that cause traffic accidents.
5. It provides the motorist with information concerning what the officer and the court will do in specific cases of violations.

Additional articles outlining and explaining the uniform traffic enforcement system will be published in subsequent issues of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Swanson Held For Assault

Wife Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Arthur Swanson, of Cornell, was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon on a charge of felonious assault in the death of Clifford South of Cornell.

A warrant was issued yesterday and signed by Sheriff William Miron. The warrant charges Swanson with making a felonious assault upon South while Swanson was drunk and disorderly in a public place, inflicting injuries that resulted in South's death.

Swanson's wife, Signe, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. She pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail. Her driver's license also was revoked.

Sheriff department officials indicated this morning that a hearing will be held Friday on a proposal to commit Mrs. Swanson to an institution for treatment as an alcoholic.

Sheriff Miron this morning escorted Ernest Valiquette and Jesse Ramey to Marquette to begin serving prison terms to which they were sentenced last week by Judge Glenn Jackson. Ramey was sentenced to a term of nine months to one year for drunk driving, third offense. Valiquette was sentenced to two to five years for receiving stolen goods.

Seaway Fight At Last Ditch

Backers Try To Keep Legislation Alive

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House public works committee today moved nearer a decision on legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

It then adjourned to meet next Thursday.

The 26-member committee, by a roll call vote of 20 to 5, tabled a St. Lawrence bill by Rep. Larcade (D-La.). This left for consideration another bill by Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.).

Chairman Buckley (D-NY.) did not vote on the motion to table the Larcade bill.

Main difference between the two bills: Larcade's proposes financing through issuance of treasury bonds. Blatnik's proposes financing through appropriation from treasury funds—the usual way of financing government power projects.

Rep. Pickett (D.-Texas), an opponent of the St. Lawrence project, told reporters after today's session that opponents control enough votes to defeat the legislation—a view which some proponents privately concede.

Blatnik said the "worst" that could happen to his bill would be to have it beaten by two votes. (Opponents claim 14 votes on the now 26-member committee).

Blatnik said he is "hopeful" the proponents' edge could be shaved to the extent that each side would have 13 votes.

Power Logging To Be Shown

Chatham Round-Up On Friday, Aug. 3

Demonstrations of power logging and woods safety will be a featured part of the annual Farmers' Round-Up program to be held Friday, August 3 at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station at Chatham.

Roy E. Skog, Michigan State College extension forester for the U. P., says that the demonstration will be of great value to farmers. Since many farmers do part-time logging and logging has the highest accident frequency of any Upper Peninsula industry—the safety demonstration will be of vital interest.

At Station Woodlot

Conducting the demonstration will be Leland W. Hooker, Michigan College of Mining and Technology timber technologist, and R. C. Hammond, safety engineer for the Wisconsin-Michigan Forest Products Safety Council.

The demonstration will be staged in the experiment station woodlot. Sawlog trees will actually be felled and bucked and logs skidded to show the effective and safe use of both hand tools and power equipment.

Tools that will be used include three different types of power chain, saws, farm-type tractors, and the ordinary ax and saw. An exhibit of safety equipment, including goggles, hard hats, and other items, will also be displayed.

Large Crowd Expected

The forestry section of the Round-Up program will be one of the many events planned for the all-day session at Chatham on August 3.

Station superintendent Russell E. Horwood anticipates a good crowd at the Round-Up. Farm families are invited to bring basket lunches to enjoy at noon in the orchard picnic area. A limited number of meals will be available at the 4-H Club and Homemakers' stand and at nearby Camp Shaw.

Ore Centennial At Iron River Costs $38,000

IRON RIVER— With bills still still coming in, the cost of staging the Iron Ore Centennial reached approximately $38,000, a preliminary financial statement discussed by the executive committee revealed.

Receipts up to last night totalled $36,516, Fred J. Dawson, treasurer, reported. However, this will be increased to about $38,500 when the village of Mineral Hills issues a check for $1,500 which the governing board voted about two months ago, and the city of Iron River pays a balance of $500 still owing. Iron River had voted $1,000 for the centennial, but was able to pay only $500 a few weeks ago.

Representatives of the village of Mineral Hills and city of Iron River advised the committee that the checks will be mailed about Aug. 1.

The committee announced after the meeting that it hoped the Centennial will be in the "black" when all bills are paid. A complete financial statement will be printed.

Airlines Union Suit Dropped

Rock Man Keeps His Post As President

CHICAGO—(AP)—David L. Behncke, ousted president of the AFL Air Line Pilots association he founded 21 years ago, says he will make no legal attempt to regain the post.

The union's board of directors on Tuesday voted for Behncke's removal. They also voted the 54-year-old Behncke an annual salary of $15,000—the amount he received as president—for life.

Behncke, in a statement issued yesterday by his attorney, Leon M. Despres, said he was withdrawing his $2,000,000 damage suit against seven board members. Petition for withdrawal of the suit was to be presented today to a master of chancery, Victor E. La Rue.

Behncke's suit also sought an injunction to halt seizure of the union's funds and headquarters by the board. The suit had been referred to La Rue for hearing by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe.

The new president of the union, which a spokesman said has 9,000 members in all parts of the world, is Clarence R. Sayen, 32, of Chicago. He is a former executive vice president of ALPA and was one of five union officials dismissed recently by Behncke.

Opposition To Seaway Still Powerful, Test Vote Reveals

INDICATIVE of the opposition still prevailing in Congress to the St. Lawrence seaway project is the result of a vote by the House public works committee Tuesday on a motion to table the power and navigation project bill. The committee voted 14-13 against tabling the bill.

The proponents of the seaway concede that powerful opposition is coming from areas not directly served by the proposed project. These forces have effectively bottled up the St. Lawrence seaway project year after year and it appears now that they may be successful again, despite the urgent pleas of straight-thinking Americans who recognize the importance of this project.

The bill was kept alive in the initial vote in committee by the narrowest margin. Congressmen from areas not directly served by the seaway project have consistently taken a narrow and selfish view, without realizing the value of this project from a standpoint of national defense.

Middle western congressmen, unfortunately, may have to adopt new tactics to force a change in the voting habits of many of their colleagues from other areas on the seaway issue. They may have to refuse support for any local projects and governmental programs in areas now opposing the seaway. It may take some pressures of this kind to break the congressional jam that perennially balks action on the St. Lawrence water development project.

Men Can Enlist Up To August 1

EXTENSION of the time in which draft registrants awaiting induction calls from their local boards may enlist in the service branch of their choice is a wise policy in view of the present draft conditions.

The period for enlistment of these men was established from June 15 to July 15. Now it has been extended to Aug. 1. It would not be surprising if it were extended again after Aug. 1.

Draft calls now are very low but they are certain to be increased before long. The need for replacements of soldiers whose enlistment periods are expiring is increasing.

Men who have passed preinduction physical examinations must realize that the time remaining before they are called for induction through the draft is extremely limited. Now they have a choice of enlisting in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marines or Coast Guard. After Aug. 1, if the present regulations are unchanged, they will be drafted into the army.

Young men who have passed preinduction physical tests and are awaiting orders from their draft board may well consider enlistment in the service branch of their choice during the time intervening before Aug. 1.

Demand For Timber Sends Loggers To Remote Areas

CONTINUED demand for hardwood and pulpwood timber for the veneer, plywood, lumber and paper industries is taking the lumberjacks to remote forest areas on Great Lakes islands nowadays.

The first boat shipment of logs to Escanaba came from Beaver Island last week with 100,000 feet of hemlock, birch and maple to be delivered to the Birds Eye Veneer company in Escanaba, Shepeck Dimension & Lumber in Wells, and Northwestern Veneer & Plywood in Gladstone.

John Roen, well known shipyard and towing operator of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., has converted a 210-foot LST ship into the only log carrier on the Great Lakes for this new trade.

Pulpwood has been shipped to Escanaba in past years, but the Roen barge last week was the first to come with veneer and sawlogs.

This week, Leonard Shay of Germfask, who exports figured woods and birdseye veneer logs to various parts of the world, landed logging equipment on Ironwood island in the Apostles group, 14 miles east of Bayfield, Wis. He will harvest 2,500,000 feet of veneer logs and 2,000 cords of pulpwood on the 519-acre island.

Other timber jobbers are logging on Drummond island in Lake Huron, and Joseph Levine, Manistique lumberman, has acquired stumpage rights on Summer Island, off the Garden peninsula, where he will begin logging next spring.

Loggers have returned to the islands to pick up the timber that was regarded as being inaccessible when earlier lumbermen were cutting the forests there. Revival of island logging and the announcement that the Bay de Noquet company will close its sawmill at Nahma due to the lack of sawlogs may be taken as a good indication that the timber resources are being depleted on the mainland.

State Park Attendance Shows Rise In U. P.

THE 11 state parks in the Upper Peninsula are showing a marked increase in public use this year, a perusal of an attendance report reveals.

Glenn C. Gregg, regional supervisor of the parks and recreation division, Michigan department of agriculture, reports 56,490 persons visited the 11 parks on the July 4 weekend as compared to 35,762 for a corresponding period last year. Total attendance up to July 10, 1951, was 235,827 as compared to 192,664 for a similar period last year.

The 11 Upper Peninsula state parks are Wells, Tahquamenon Falls, Straits, Porcupine Mountains, Palms-Book, Indian Lake, Gogebic Lake, Fort Wilkins, Brimley, Baraga and McLain.

Although these recreational areas are used mostly by Upper Peninsula residents for family picnics, a considerable number of tourists also visit them. At least the figures indicate a growing public appreciation of the recreational advantages offered by one of the finest state park systems in the country.

STUDENT DEFERMENTS

(Iron Mountain News)

College students who have been taking the aptitude tests prescribed by Selective Service may feel as if their efforts had been somewhat futile. Under the new universal military service and training law, no student may be deferred solely because of his score on the test. These tests will serve merely as guides to local draft boards.

The President, through the Director of Selective Service, is empowered to set standards for deferment, but there is no way in which these criteria can be imposed upon local boards. Thus what is likely to result is a widely varied pattern of practices, depending on whether the individual board is "tough" or lenient. Whether this is a weakness in the law remains to be seen. At any rate, legislators were wise in recognizing that the aptitude test alone has too many limitations to be a valid standard of deferment.

Actually, in weighing the demands for college deferments against the demands for truly national service and training, conferees faced an irreconsilable dilemma. The national concept suffered in the resulting compromise. The president is authorized to set rules for the deferment of college students—again subject to the concurrence of local draft boards. But the requirement that such students take basic training before they could be selected was eliminated from the law, as was the number to be selected. Deferment, of course, is not exemption, and graduates who fail to go into essential occupations will be liable for service or training until they reach age 35.

Obviously this compromise is a good deal less than the ideal solution under which some sort of service would be required of everyone. One of the worst features is that financial discrimination will be retained — those students fortunate enough to go to college may be deferred whereas equally bright young men of less means will be drafted. Moreover inevitably there will be some feeling that the armed services are getting the culls. The only conceivable justification for this sort of discrimination is the imperative need for a continuing flow of trained scientists, doctors, engineers and the like — a need which would be imperiled by even a short hiatus.

Undoubtedly many of the college students themselves would prefer to serve under a more democratic arrangement than that which has emerged. It is important for the public to remember that no stigma should attach to the students who may be deferred, for this will be done under the law. The deferred students themselves will of course be under something of a public trust to employ their talents in the national service.

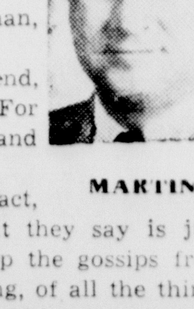
Have You Heard?

By Gordon Martin



MARTIN

There's a couple of expressions you could surely do without, for they certainly are overworked when gossip's tossed about. If you hear a person use them, you at once should be alert, to the fact that he's an able hand at dishing up the dirt. "Have you heard" is his beginning, or perhaps it is "They say," and another round of gossip then is started on its way.

"Have you heard" all sorts of rumors that will crucify a man, and destroy his wealth of promise as you put him on the pan? "Have you heard" the latest scandal that involves a trusted friend, and that leaves a trail of broken hearts impossible to mend? For "they say" it's really awful what the wayward guy has done, and you'd never guess that, of such crimes, he'd be the guilty one.

Yes, you've surely heard aplenty but it's not a tale of fact, for it's on a hear-say basis that the victim is attacked. What they say is just malicious talk that wouldn't stand in court, but that doesn't keep the gossips from their petty little sport. "Have you heard," they keep on whispering, of all the things "they say," and it's then you ought to send them on their sorry gabbing way.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Part of the damage suffered by the people of Kansas in the current flood would have been avoided but for the custom of senatorial courtesy.

Thirteen years ago, Congress passed a bill authorizing a 22,000-acre reservoir on Tuttle Creek, north of Manhattan, Kansas. It was proposed by the army engineers as a means of controlling the floods which have swept eastern Kansas periodically.

However, the dam was never built—for the reason that the money never was voted by Congress. Although authorized, it was never voted because one of the late Republican senators from Kansas, Clyde Reed, objected. Every time the appropriation came up for the Tuttle Creek reservoir, Senator Reed turned thumbs down, and under the system of senatorial courtesy he had the final say.

Frank Carlson, now a GOP senator from Kansas, was then a congressman and did his best to obtain passage of the appropriation. Later, as governor, Frank Carlson also tried to push the Tuttle Creek reservoir through. But Senator Reed had some friends in that area who owned farming land which would have been taken over by the proposed reservoir. Unfortunately, he put their interest ahead of the interest of the rest of the people of eastern Kansas.

Now lives have been lost and millions of dollars worth of property ruined in a flood which could have been partly controlled if the army engineers' plan had been followed.

WHY TRUMAN CAN'T WIN

An unpublicized incident occurred in the Federal Power commission recently which illustrates why Harry Truman is almost certain not to be elected president of the United States even if he chooses to run.

The incident involved a poker-playing crony of the president's, Ex-Sen. Mon Wallgren, who deliberately cut his chief's throat.

This has become a favorite pattern in Washington. The White House outlines a policy, frequently a fine and courageous policy. Then the president appoints men who throw that policy in the ditch. That's why the Truman administration is being called the "talk-big-do-little" administration.

This was what he did on one of the most important battles he has waged in the past year—his veto of the Kerr natural gas bill. The bill was authored by a friend of his, powerful, popular Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. But it would have boosted the price of gas to city populations everywhere, and also boosted the profits of the oil and gas companies. So Truman vetoed it.

Yet, believe it or not, the Federal Power commission has now secretly overruled the president's policy and completely nullified his veto.

What the Kerr bill said was that the Federal Power commission did not have jurisdiction to regulate the price of natural gas going into interstate pipelines. The president, overruling the Kerr bill, said the Power commission did have jurisdiction.

SECRET VOTE

But, by a secret 4-to-1 vote, the FPC has now decided not to take jurisdiction over the biggest producer of natural gas, Phillips Petroleum, thus directly reversing the president and giving the oil and gas moguls their greatest victory in years.

Incidentally, housewives in the cities of the north, midwest and southwest can look for hikes in the price of their gas very shortly.

Significantly also—Senator Kerr is one of the biggest suppliers of natural gas to Phillips Petroleum. He owns several leases in partnership with Phillips, while his Kerr-McGee Oil company owns an estimated $100,000,000 in natural gas reserves. His gross income of $12,000,000 a year makes him the wealthiest man in the Senate.

Take My Word For It . . .

LET'S LEARN A NEW WORD

Obverse: The front or principal side of anything: that side of a coin or medal which bears the principal design. For example, the side of a Lincoln penny which bears the image of Abraham Lincoln is the obverse side. The side which bears the inscription "one cent" is the reverse.

Obverse, the noun, is pronounced: OB-vurss. The adjective is: ob-VURSS; or: OB-vurss.

Trichology: The science of treating the hair and scalp. A trichologist is one skilled in the treating of the hair and scalp.

Trichology is pronounced: try-KOLL-uh-jee.

Trichologist is: try-KOLL-uh-jist.

Implosion: Almost the exact opposite of explosion. This word is not new, but it has only recently entered the average reading vocabulary in connection with the A-bomb. Implosion describes a sudden release of energy which happens to be directed into something instead of outward. If a vacuum tube—like a radio tube, for instance—is shattered, it is likely to implode. During the recent spy trials it was established that one of the steps in an A-bomb explosion is a preliminary implosion.

Implode is pronounced: im-PLODE.

Implosion is pronounced: im-PLOH-zhun.

Megabuck: The short-cut a scientist takes in saying "a million dollars." It comes from the Greek megas, meaning "great" (here, "one million"), plus the slang word "buck," meaning "a dollar." Hence, a 20-megabuck laboratory refers to a $20,000,000 laboratory.

Oyez: When the court crier calls the court to order with 'ho-yes, oh-yes, oh-yes," he does not mean "oh, yes!" but "Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye!" Oyez is pronounced exactly like "oh yes."

Education Rights Under GI Bill End July 25; Many Vets Ignore Training

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—With the July 25th cut-off date at hand on GI education, the Veterans Administration estimates that American ex-servicemen will have ignored more than 80 per cent of all such benefits available to them.

Out of 15.2 million veterans eligible for some free schooling on Uncle Sam, only 600,000 of them took ful advantage of what they had coming. Another 6.5 million vets only used a fraction of their education benefits—averaging 15 months—with a great many dropping courses they had started.

COLLEGE: 2.2 million vets took U. S. financed courses.

The cut-off date affects all vets who have not yet started courses. The 1.2 million veterans now taking courses will be able to continue, if qualified, until 1956. Total cost for the program by 1956, it is estimated, will be $16 billion. By July 25, VA estimates it will have cost $12 billion.

• • •

For this huge sum 3.2 million vets got an average of a year and a half's schooling below college level, mostly in trade schools teaching auto and airplane mechanics; in addition, many completed high and grade school. The nation's colleges took care of 2.2 million U. S.-financed vets. Another 1.4 million received on-the-job training; 600,000 men received training on farms.

The $12 billion also paid for dancing lessons for about 3000 vets, art lessons for 40,000, flying lessons for 100,000, embalming instructions for 6000 and the secrets of bartending for about 1000.

The only course which consistently attracted an ever-increasing number of students as the program continued from the end of the war to the present has been theology. Total number of vets having taken theology is expected to be about 30,000.

With some exceptions the cut-off date applies to all vets who were discharged before July 25, 1947. This includes the great bulk of them. However, the cut-off date does not affect disabled vets who are receiving or want to receive training under Public Law 16.

• • •

It is not enough to make an application for training before the deadline. A man has to be actually in training to be able to continue beyond the final date.

Veterans who are in the midst of a course or period of training but who are taking a summer vacation are not going to be affected by the date. Nor are vets who have had their training interrupted "for reasons beyond their control." A call back to active duty would be considered such a reason.

A veteran who is able to continue a course after the cut-off date cannot stop and begin another field of study, but a vet can change courses within a broad curriculum without endangering his rights.

• • •

Veterans who are taking GI Bill correspondence courses cannot change to classroom courses after the cut-off date, even though they want to stay in the same field of study, according to a VA ruling. An exception is a college home-study course which supplements classroom studies.

Veterans who have completed pre-med or pre-dental training, but who haven't been admitted to a professional school for completion of the course, aren't necessarily affected by the deadline. The veteran must let the VA know, however, that he has applied for admission each year after completing their GI Bill preliminary training.

Any vet who failed to start any training or schooling, and then either volunteered or was called back to active duty, is out of luck. Unless he can get in on some course before the deadline, which is possible, he loses any future rights.

The major exception to the deadline are the men who enlisted or reenlisted under the voluntary recruitment act—between Oct. 6, 1945 and Oct. 5, 1946. They have nine years from the end of that enlistment in which to wind up their GI training.

Explosive Situation In Iran Points Up Importance Of Oil In World Today

AP Newsfeatures

The explosive situation in the Middle East created by the nationalization of oil in Iran focuses attention on one of the most vital sinews of a modern nation. Today, oil is power—power to develop and maintain huge industries and complex transportation systems by land, water, and air, and power to expand these industries and keep jeeps, tanks and bombers moving in war. It is not surprising that nations vie for sources of supply.

Some peoples have more oil than they can use; others would starve if outside supplies were cut off. At the moment, the balance of petroleum power is in favor of the Western World by a wide margin: 49 per cent of the world's reserves are in North and South America, against 6½ per cent in the U.S.R.R. and its satellites. Europe outside of the Iron Curtain has less than 1 per cent, and the Far East only 2 per cent.

Iran Supplies Big

The Middle East, collectively, has more than 42 per cent of the world's estimated total reserves. Iran itself has 9 per cent, and is the fourth largest producer in the world (after the United States, Venezuela, and the U.S.R.R.) But present known reserves and production figures are only an indication of future potentialities. Many of the American oil fields are old and declining in production.

So far few of the benefits of this enormous wealth have filtered down into the life of the people. In Iran the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company (A.I.O.C.) has for long controlled output. The major portion of the profits have accordingly remained in British hands, or in the hands of a small group of Iranians. Most of the people are desperately poor, undernourished, illiterate, and victims of an outmoded feudal system. Only small areas in the north and west (see map) enjoy enough rain to grow unirrigated crops or maintain grass in a country where 80 per cent of the people depend on agriculture and grazing. The rest of the land is mountainous or forest covered, or it is barren desert where water is almost unobtainable and temperatures in winter remind one of Siberia and in summer of the hottest spots in the Sahara.

Water Needed

The primary need of the country is more water. Without more water crop yields can not be increased and much potentially fertile land must lie idle.

Except for oil Iran is poorly endowed with industrially useful minerals. The Abadan oil refinery, the largest in the world, is the biggest single industry, employing more than one-third of all the industrial manpower. Oil is the one resource that could in the near future purchase for the Iranians relief from their poverty.

On the global front oil is as much a political as an economic issue. Should the petroleum in Iran and the rest of the Middle East come within the Russian orbit, Western Europe would find it hard to defend itself (75 per cent of its supply now comes from the Middle East,) while the drain on the supplies of the Western Hemisphere would almost certainly cause grave concern, not only to our military planners but to their colleagues throughout the free world.

African Safari With Bob Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

GRUMMETTI CAMP, TANGANYIKA—It has occurred that possibly you might be interested in what it takes, in addition to money in somewhat frightening amounts, to make a safari. For openers you've got to be slightly nuts to travel this far away from home and mother to shoot something that might conceivably resent you to the point of chewing, kicking, or goring you to death. But we assume I'm nuts, because I'm here.

The equipment is slightly staggering, because you must provide all you need to subsist comfortably hundreds of miles away from anything larger than a thatched hut. And if you are shooting, either guns or cameras—and we are indulging in both vices—there are so many varieties of of targets that you need highly diverse stuff.

Guns, say. I'm wearing an arsenal composed of a .470 Westley-Richards double-barreled rifle, for such truck as rhino and buffalo, which take a lot of killing. It knocks me about as far as it knocks the victim, and shoots a cartridge as big as a banana.

• • •

RIFLES AND SHOTGUNS

Then there's a .375 Magnum Winchester for lion and big, 1,000-pound-plus antelope-like eland, and for slightly less massive critters like kudu and sable and roan, which are still as big as small horses. The middle gun is a 30-.06 Remington for general utility shooting, and a Winchester .220 swift for potting hyenas and smaller game and finishing off the big babies. All these guns save the heavy double have scopes.

As the bird shooter in this I am packing two shotguns, a Churchill 12-guage double, which is my heart's delight, and a marverous little Sauer 16 which I stole from a friend of mine, after four years of conniving.

As vice-president in charge of cameras, mama goes forth to war wearing a bristling array composed of a Leica with telephoto; a Rolleiflex full of color; a black-and-white Ikoflex; and a magazine-load Cinekodak for movies, and enough assorted film to keep the Ansco people in the black for the next ten years.

* * *

PHOTOGRAPHIC WITCHCRAFT

There is also a little weapon called a land Polaroid, which takes the instantaneous shots, and which the natives find infinitely fascinating. The old lady runs a free photographic studios wherever she goes, and has made more friends than a politician on election eve. Other people may deal in trinkets; we whip out the Polaroid and deliver unto the chief a personal photo, served crisp and hot in one minute. This is witchcraft of a high order.

We have one bag full of books, which we don't read, and two bags full of unfinished work, which I don't finish. We have a bag full of medicine for father's gout, triple sulfa for lion wounds, sleeping pills for unruly airplanes, twenty-dollar pills that cure everything from claustrophobia to kleptomania, aspirin, vitamins, quinine, conjunctivitis remedies, and a couple of quarts of insect repellent that arouses the beast in the meekest mosquito.

* * *

EXPENSIVE SPORT

We have a typewriter and a portable phonograph that does not work because there is no electricity but which a kind friend gave us at LaGuardia airport as a going-away present. We have a safari trunk full of hunting clothes and a city trunk full of city clothes. We wear bush-jackets with cartridge loops and slacks and sweaters and sneakers and boots. We have wooden boxes full of food, condiments, gin, beer, coke, cigarettes and ammunition.

There are drums of gasoline and water. There are complete kits of spare parts for Jessica the jeep and Annie Lorry the truck. There is the medical kit for Jessica and the lunch kit for the long hauls. We employ one white hunter, one head boy, two gunbearers, one lion expert, one car-boy, two skinners, one cook, one cook's assistant, one Lorry driver to keep Annie stuck in the bogs, two porters and two personal boys.

I tell you, the going price of lions comes high. If we don't find gold on this trip I may be taking another safari soon. Only this time I'll be working my way home.

Common Classroom Goals To Be Topic Of U-M Conference

ANN AABOR—Common goals being sought in the classrooms of Michigan's high schools and at the University of Michigan will be the subject of a conference at the University on Friday, July 27.

An all-day session has been arranged by a committee headed by Clyde Vroman, director of admissions at the university, with the following objectives:

1. To acquaint teachers at the high school and university level with current practices in the classrooms at both levels.
2. To permit the exchange of information on classrooms goals, procedure, materials and equipment.
3. To stimulate experimentation in instructional methods.
4. To find common interests and problems in subject matter courses.
5. To find new and better ways of helping students make the transition from high school courses to university courses.

The conference is the first of this type to be held at the university, Vroman reports. Invitations have been sent to all high school principals in the state but major attendance is expected from those high school teachers enrolled in the university's summer session.

Hospital Fund Split Runs Into Deep Confusion

Legion Sanatorium Closing Proposed

LANSING — (AP) — Legislative committee's attempt to split up $3,000,000,000 among counties seeking $10,000,000,,000 or more of state funds for tuberculosis hospital construction plunged deep into confusion today.

The controversy was heightened yesterday when Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, and Theodore Werrle, secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, recommended closing of the American Legion sanatorium at Battle Creek.

Pork Barrell Threatens

Veterans leaders sprang to the defense of the institution leased for 30 years from the state, and committee members insisted they did not subscribe to the recommendation.

Paul A. Martin, publisher of the Lansing State Journal and president of the State Tuberculosis hospital commission, warned the committee that the $3,000,000 fund was in danger of becoming a "pork barrel" for greedy local groups and legislators.

The money is that which is left of $5,000,000 informally earmarked for tuberculosis hospitals from a $65,000,000 bond issue approved last fall by the voters for mental and TB hospitals.

Powers On List

Dr. Heustis, pleading for strong regional hospitals, gave the following priority after Wayne county; west central area, east central area, south central and central Upper Peninsula.

Werrle gave as his priorities, after Wayne, Saginaw county, Ingham county, Kent county, Calhoun county, Jackson county, Pinecrest at Powers, Grandview at Ironwood, Morgan Heights at Marquette, with "serious consideration" for Oakland county and Genessee county.

Peace Hits Snag In Korea; Final Showdown Nears

ed Thursday's discussion by asking what the Allies thought of a new cease-fire agenda submitted by the Commnuists Wednesday.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy replied, the U. N. communique said, by reiteration "the United Nations stand that only matters of a military nature would be discussed."

The allies consider the question of withdrawing troops from Korea a political one, to be taken up later at a higher level after an armistice has been signed.

Preston said the U. N. was willing to accept agenda items already agreed upon as a complete agenda, and start actual cease-fire talks immediately.

The U. N. Wednesday announced it accepted two items. It didn't say what they were. No official mention has been made of agreement on any other subjects.

Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, deputy information chief of the U. N. command, said:

"I believe tomorrow will be an important day."

Friday's meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m., (7 p. m., Thursday EST).

Despite the sharp cleavage in views, Preston said he would not call it a deadlock. He added:

"As you know, meetings with Communists are long, drawn out affairs. You will have to give us a little more time. Tomorrow may be a big day."

He would not confirm the general belief that the issue in dispute is the Red demand for withdrawal of foreign troops, which Joy's reiteration of his opening statement seemed to emphasize.

As negotiators worked to complete their agenda, the war went on—mostly in the air and sea.

Three U. N. planes were shot down Wednesday and a Red plane probably was knocked out Thursday. The allied planes—an F-80 shooting star jet, an F-51 mustang, and an F-4U marine plane—were hit by ground fire.

The Red plane was claimed by a B-26 bomber. It was one of three outdated Russian-type fighters that challenged the B-26 over the east coast port of Hamhung in the early morning.

Fifth air force fighters flew 108 night missions under a full moon, setting fires that could be spotted 20 miles away. It was the third successive night of more than 100 strikes.

South of Hamhung the battleship New Jersey and cruiser Helena joined four U. S. destroyers and a British frigate in blasting resurgent Red shore batteries at besieged Wonsan. Carrier planes bombed and strafed while the New Jersey's 16 inchers roared at the Red artillery. A thousand rounds were fired by the U. N. fleet, knocking out many Communist guns.

There was little action across the front which reaches nearly to the cease-fire site of Kaesong.

Cut In Peninsula Service Sought By Milwaukee Road

LANSING —(AP)—The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad opened a court fight today in an attempt to cut its train service in the Upper Peninsula.

The railroad appealed to the Ingham county circuit court to set aside a state public service commission order holding that train service must be continued between Channing and Ontonagon.

The commission issued its order May 2 after holding several hearings on the matter. The railroad operates one train each way daily between the two cities.

The railroad claimed it loses money on the service and was expected to carry the fight through to the state supreme court. The train service must be continued, meanwhile, until a final court ruling on the case.

Upper Peninsula residents had expressed bitter opposition to the proposal to abandon the service. In ordering the service continued, the commission noted that there was no other means of public transportation between the two cities.

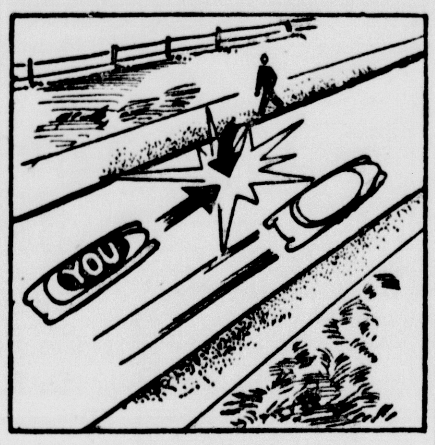
Unwritten Laws Of The Road

No. 7: Don't Pass Opposite A Pedestrian.



Going faster than the other fellow requires one car to get alongside the other to pass. This getting-alongside business causes the trouble. It is difficult to pass a single vehicle and take your chances on having it start to move over in front of you—at least you have the left-hand shoulder for dodging area. Professional drivers refuse to pass a vehicle if, at the area of passing, there is a pedestrian on the left-hand shoulder. His presence there eliminates your dodging area. If he steps over on the pavement he gives you the choice of hitting him or of sideswiping the car you are trying to pass. Speed up or slow down so that you pass either this side or beyond the pedestrian.

Water Boundaries Between Three States Marked

HOUGHTON—Water boundaries, hitherto existing in theory only have finally been established and marked between Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Dr. Jerry Service, assisted by Dr. C. George Stipe, members of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology faculty, and Manuel A. Silva, a student at the college, carried out the survey work begun last summer and resumed again June 23. They completed their project, sponsored by the Joint Survey Commission of the three states, last week.

The new boundaries are marked by permanent reference points on the shores of Lakes Michigan and Superior, designating lines the mid-point of which represent the dividing lines between the states. The reference points, called "monuments," are of principal value in the enforcing of laws regulating commercial fishing.

An act of Congress in 1947 changed the water boundaries between the three states from a twisting series of midpoints in Lakes Michigan and Superior to more easily established straight boundaries. Service and Stipe completed the monumenting of Lake Superior and the west coast of Lake Michigan last summer. Their work this summer was on the east coast of Lake Michigan.

Wine Tasting No Fun, Says Expert Who Stays Sober

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK—(AP)—After a hard day at the office, Frank Schoonmaker comes home tired from drinking, but not drunk.

In some quarters this may be regarded as thoughtless waste of the perfect alibi, since Schoonmaker is a professional wine taster. But in working hours, he says, he can't afford to swallow the stuff. He tastes and then spits it out.

"In one day," he reports, "I may taste as many as 100 different wines. If I swallow it, I'd be plastered before dark."

Schoonmaker, a wine importer and author of books on wines (his latest: "A Dictionary of Wines"), says tasting wine professionally isn't much fun.

Too Much Concentration

"It takes too much out of you," he explains. "It demands too much concentration. You can't carry on a conversation or do anything else. You have to be absorbed in the one thing. It's like a critic listening to music. He can't hear anything else at the time."

On a tasting day, Schoonmaker doesn't smoke or eat any highly flavored foods which would dull the edge of his taste buds. Each taste involves about a table spoon of wine and requires about two minutes for tasting, analyzing and making notes.

First, Schoonmaker examines the color. He can tell a chemically colored wine from a naturally colored one just by a glance. If the color is off, he won't even smell it, much less taste it.

Next, he smells the wine and grades the bouquet. He does this by swishing it round in the glass. The more the inside of the glass is coated with the stuff, the greater the bouquet.

Now he is ready to taste.

Nose Knows

"I swish it around in my mouth," he says. "I draw in air over it. I breathe out through my nose. That's important because much of the taste is in the nose. Some wines seem good when they first hit you but they don't have a persistent flavor as the taste leaves you."

Now he thinks about what he's just tasted. About the fruitiness of the flavor and specific grape involved, about possible flaws, about whether it's too old or too young (Alsatian Sylvaner wine, for example, should be under five years; after that it loses its fruitness), about balance or whether the wine is too acidic.

He doesn't like to be asked which type of wine he likes best. "It's like," he says, "asking a man which of his four children he likes best."

Started As Hobby

Schoonmaker, who is 45 and favors crew haircuts and bowties, got into wines by way of the newspaper business. He had always loved wine and as a correspondent in Paris he made a hobby of traveling to French vineyards and collecting all kinds of data on the subject.

Back in the United States after the repeal of prohibition, the New Yorker magazine was looking for a wine expert. Schoonmaker was retained for a series of 20 articles. Soon after, he went into business for himself, as an importer.

Off working hours, he drinks and swallows a lot of wine, about half from California and half imported.

"My wife and I love it," he says. "We drink about 50 cases a year, which is a little below the French national average, but still pretty creditable."

Bear Fished Out Of Lake Superior

CALUMET—A bear which apparently fell or was pushed off a cliff in a fight with another bear has been fished out of Lake Superior and buried by conservation department field men.

Richard Stipe, McLain state park manager, says a park camper spotted the 300-pounder which had been floating in Superior for about two weeks. The neck was broken. The animal evidently dropped off the cliff bordering the Portage ship canal and floated out to Superior.

A moose fell into Superior several years ago.

Alfred E. Perkins Retires, Will Study At Oxford

GULLIVER — Of interest to friends here is word received recently by Mrs. Harrison Beach that her brother Alfred E. Perkins of Denver Colo., will study English at Oxford university. Mr. Perkins recently retired as district manager in Denver for the Crucible Steel Company of America.

A graduate of the University of Michigan and of the Colorado School of Mines, Perkins started his now successful attempt to enter Oxford about a year ago.

After several months and a trip to New York for the required sponsorship, arrangements were made by Prof. E. L. Woodward, once head of the department of history at Worcester College, Oxford ,and now a visiting professor with the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton.

Says jovial Perkins, "I've always wanted to study English history; all my life I've been a salesman and engineer, and since I'm past the age when I'd really enjoy undergraduate life, I've found quarters at a hotel just outside town. I'll buy a little English automobile which will take me to my classes and around the country to look up the Normans and any old ruins I want to see."

Perkins wants to find out about his family. His paternal grandmother was a Catherine Norman who lived in a Tudor manor house at Sandringham.

Perkins will spend a few months in travel before school starts in October. He has many friends here, having often been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Beach.

It is the first of a series of storm sewer projects planned by the city to facilitate water runoff during storms and lessen the loads now placed on the sanitary sewer system.

City crews shortly will begin the laying of a block of concrete pavement on Thirteenth street from Michigan to Wisconsin avenue. This will be a special assessment project requested by property owners in that vicinity.

Mead Golfing Party Sunday

Two Papermills Join In Event

Combined golf teams from the Mead Corporation plants in Escanaba and Manistique will have their annual local party and match Sundaya t the Indian Lake course, it is announced by R. G. Hentschell, Mead divisional manager here.

Twenty-seven players are expected from Escanaba, and the Manistique plant will furnish 12 or 13 more. Supervisory and office personnel of the two mills will play the operational staffs, starting at 10 a. m.

Nine holes will be played in the forenoon and nine more following lunch. At the conclusion of the program a dinner will be served at the clubhouse, with the losing team paying for it.

In addition, sevral prizes for various feats of golfing will be awarded.

Renold Anderson is general chairman in charge. Others on his committee are A. W. Cockram and Rodger Smith.

This will be the seventh annual golfing party held at the Indian Lake course since the Mead Corporation took over the local papermill. In addition to the event here, two similar parties are held each year in Escanaba. A month ago local Mead golfers joined the Escanaba staff in a match at the Esacanaba Golf club, and a similar party is slated for August at the Highland club in Escanaba.

Final Plans For Wells Program Are Being Made

Final preparations are being made by the local committee for the appearance in Manistique of Charles Wells, noted speaker, news analyst and cartoonist.

Wells, whose program here is under the sponsorship of the Manistique Ministerial association, will speak each evening beginning Sunday, July 29, and concluding Friday, August 3. His talks will be given in the high school auditorium, and the public is invited to hear him.

The speaker will discuss many national and international problems confronting mankind, illustratig his messages with cartoons drawn as he speaks. In his talks on communism, Wells will speak with the voice of experience, as he spent many weeks touring the nations on the fringes of the Iron Curtain.

Two Manistique persons who heard Wells speak, Dr. George A Shaw and Mrs. Helen McGlothlin, both declare his messages are vigorous and highly entertaining.

In his bi-monthly paper, "Between the Lines," Wells states: "We are convinced that the American answer for both communism and democratic socialism is a revitalized Christian capitalism that promotes closer management-worker cooperation, greater worker participation in ownership profit-sharing, systems of pensions or security out of production, and other forms of applied Christian sharing. We stand for our country, right or wrong, rejoicing when it is right, but when authoritative evidence indicates our country is being influenced into the wrong, we believe that the greatest patriotism will be to seek through democratic means to set our country right. We hold this to be the highest service to patriotism and to God."

National Guards Nose Out Inland

The National Guards edged Inland last night 13 to 12 to get their first win of the season and put Inland into last place.

In the seventh inning the score was 12 to 11 when, with the Guards trailing, Tufnell singled and Schuetter hit a home run to tie and win. Schuetter also collected two singles

The Guards got 11 hits, Inland got 17. Anderson was the losing pitcher, and Gown was the winner.

Swimming Grandma To Tackle Channel

LONDON — (AP) — Mrs. Betty Cohn, Brooklyn's swimming grandma, flew in from America today to try her secret "sledgehammer" stroke on the English channel.

Bouncy and talkative 50-year-old Mrs. Cohn told newsmen:

"I swam 18 or 19 miles every day. I don't think the channel will be too difficult."

The date of her channel attempt will depend on the weather, but it probably will be made next month.

Larry Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Larson, 179 North Maple avenue, is a medical patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

Modern Lab And X-Ray Service Offered Here

A diagnostic service comparable to the best available in northern Michigan or Wisconsin is provided by the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital through its modern laboratory and x-ray facilities and its consulting service in pathology and radiology, it is reported by Kenneth D. Moberg, administrator.

Both the laboratory and the x-ray rooms are provided with the latest type equipment, purchased largely through grants from the Kellogg Foundation at Battle Creek. The Kellogg Foundation also is providing funds to assist in the operation of the service during the first few years it is offered.

Two Consultants

Miss Clare Schultz is laboratory and x-ray technician. Consultants who make regular visits to the hospital are Dr. R. J. Rogers, of Oconto, Wis., pathologist, and Dr Arthur Gonty, of Menominee, radiologist. Dr. Rogers makes a monthly trip and Dr. Bonty comes twice a month.

In addition to the specialized services of these two men, the hospital utilizes a cardiological service in Skokie, Ill., for cardiographic readings. These readings, taken on the hospital's electrocardiograph machine, show heart conditions.

In addition to the electro-cardiograph equipment, the laboratory contains the following latest type machines: Basal metabolism equipment for thyroid readings, an incubator for the growing of cultures, a hot-air oven for the drying of chemicals and sterilization, microscopic equipment, blood cell calculator, a photrometer for reading the chemistry of the blood, and various other items required for laboratory operations.

Two X-Ray Machines

The x-ray room, completely lead-lined to prevent escape of the rays, contains two machines, a huge stationery x-ray apparatus and a smaller portable machine. The large machine, which utilizes 200 volts, also contains a fluoroscopic attachment.

It requires about 10 minutes to develop an x-ray film after the picture has been taken. Special developing equipment also is provided in a small dark room adjoining the x-ray room. Other equipment includes fluorothin radiographic illuminators for reading x-ray films and a stereoscopic machine for taking two x-ray pictures simultaneously.

"Our modern equipment plus the consulting service in pathology and radiology makes our diagnostic service as qualified as any available in this northern area," Moburg said. "And it's here in Manistique for local people and those in our surrounding areas to use"

School Rate May Be Okeh

District May Not Be Disqualified

Latest information from the state tax commission indicates that the Manistique public school tax rate of 4.999 mills will not disqualify the local school district for state aid during the next school year, it is reported by William Hood, city attorney.

According to a law passed in the spring after various county tax allocation boards had set final school rates, a school district is required to have a rate of five mills in order to qualify for state aid.

Following passage of the law, the local school district was advised in a letter from the legal division of the department of public instruction that Manistique schools could not qualify for state on the basis of the 4.999 rate. The state aid involved would amount to around $130,000.

The department pointed out, however, that the local school district could qualify by calling a special election and having voters approve the other one-thousandth of a mill to bring the rate back to five mills.

Acceptance of the 4.999 mill rate by the state department will eliminate the need for the election, the Manistique attorney said. The actual amount of cash represented by the thousandth of a mill is $4.80 for the entire city.

Clyde Vollmer New Boston Glamour Boy

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Clouting Clyde Vollmer, booed off his home town Cincinnati team, is the new Boston glamor boy, outdazzling such Red Sox stalwarts as Ted Williams, Vern Stephens, Bobby Doerr and Dom DiMaggio.

Clyde Vollmer
Red Sox

A much shuttled and shunted part-time fly-chaser and pinch hitter through seven discouraging big league seasons, the 29-year-old Ohioan has finally established himself as one of the best clutch hitters in baseball.

Vollmer, more than any other Red Socker, is responsible for Boston's spectacular climb to the top of the American league. Climaxing a brilliant two-week batting splurge, the strapping outfielder last night led the Red Sox to a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Volmer accounted for Boston's first run with his fifth homer in the last 11 games and his 11th of the season. It came in the fifth inning and snapped a scoreless duel between Boston's Leo Kiely and Cleveland's Bob Lemon. He scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth when he walked and raced all the way home as Larry Doby threw wild to third on Buddy Rosar's single.

The victory gave the Red Sox a full game lead over Chicago's second place White Sox and increased their margin to a game and a half over the New York Yankees. Cleveland remains in fourth place two and a half games off the pace.

The Yankees moved to within a fraction of a percentage point of Chicago, whipping the White Sox, 5-1 behind the pitching of Vic Raschi and Bob Kuzava.

Washington spoiled Satchell Paige's 1951 debut with the Browns by cuffing him for 11 hits in eight innings to trounce St. Louis, 7-1. Philadelphia's Athletics amassed 20 hits to overcome Detroit, 16-9.

Cards In Second

The St. Louis Cardinals climbed past the New York Giants into second place in the National league by trampling the Boston Braves, 9-6. The win together with Pittsburgh's 13-12 slugfest triumph over Brooklyn reduced the front-running Dodgers' lead over the Redbirds to eight games. Ralph Kiner blasted three home runs for the Pirates, one with the bases loaded.

Two run homers by veteran Hank Sauer and rookie Chuck Connors gave the Chicago Cubs a 6-3 victory over the Giants. Cincinnati and Philadelphia exchanged shutouts. After Willie Ramsdell pitched the Reds to a 2-0 win over the Phils, southpaw Ken Johnson hurled a 1-0 victory over the Reds.

The Red Sox, who meet the Indians in the rubber game today, now have won seven of their last 11. Vollmer's big bat has played a prominent part in six of these victories.

The Steves got off to three runs in the first inning and were never in trouble. Daggett scored its lone tally in the top of the ninth.

But Klein went the distance for the winners, allowing only four hits, all singles. He fanned 11 and walked one. Ronnie Wagner served behind the plate.

Lesperance was nicked for eight hits by Stephenson. All were singles. He fanned five and walked three with Gokey catching.

Daggett committeds five error while Stephenson bobbled one.

Milwaukee Snaps St. Paul Streak

The Milwaukee Brewers snapped St. Paul's winning streak at six in a row last night in dividing a twin bill which kept them one full game behind the pace-setting Saints in the American Association race.

In the 7-inning opener, the Saints exploded for four runs in the sixth to wipe out a 3-0 lag and win 4-3, mainly on Bill Antonello's three-run homer.

In the finale, however, Milwauke's Ernie Johnson hurled a two-hitter for his fifth straight win as the Brews notched a 16-0 triumph.

Kansas City dropped a half-game out of a second-spot tie with Milwaukee in succumbing to fourth-place Minneapolis, 7-5.

At Indianapolis, the last-place Columbus Red Birds chalked up two 3-2 victories over the Tribe.

Louisville copped its sixth decision in seven starts by trimming visiting Toledo 7-2. Bill Evans allowed six Mud Hen hits.

Brownie Manager Is Pleased With Paige

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Satchel Paige lost his starting game with the Browns but St. Louis manager Zack Taylor thinks he has found a pitcher.

"He had plenty of stuff and pitched better than I expected him to," the Brownie manager declared last night, after the Washington Senators beat the Browns and Paige 7 to 1.

"I didn't expect him to go as long as he did. He will start after the usual four days rest."

Legion Junior Baseball District Meet Opens At Gladstone Tomorrow Morning

GLADSTONE—American Legion Junior baseball will hold the sports spotlight over the weekend with the 11th district tournament opening with two games tomorrow morning.

Competing for the right to enter the Upper Peninsula finals tournament at Escanaba, July 27-28, will be the host Gladstone team, Escanaba, Munising and Menominee. The winner here will meet the 12th district champion in the U. P. meet.

Opening Games

Munising and Gladstone will tangle in the tournament opener slated for 9:30 tomorrow morning. Menominee and Escanaba take the field at 11:30 in the double-elimination tournament.

Losers of the morning games will meet at 3:30 and the winners tangle at 6 tomorrow afternoon. A team must lose twice before it is eliminated from the tournament.

Survivors of the losers' bracket will play Saturday morning at 10 with that winner going against the winner in the top bracket at 5:30 in the championship game. If necessary, a one-game playoff will be staged Sunday.

May Need Extra Day

A Sunday game would be necessary if the team in the losers' bracket should beat the undefeated team in the winners' bracket Saturday afternoon. That would leave both the finalists with a loss and a second defeat would be required to eliminate one.

On paper the tournament shapes up as a two-team affair, with Menominee and Escanaba installed as co-favorites. Both are undefeated in Waubung Junior league play this season, Menominee with six wins and Escanaba with five.

The Maroons have topped Munising 18-0, Bark River 23-0 and 7-6, Powers 3-1 and 4-3 and Gladstone 15-2.

The five Escanaba wins were posted over Powers 9-0, Gladstone 11-4 and 6-1, Bark River 4-0 and Munising 11-3. Both teams have additional games in non-league competition and the Maroons were licked once by the DePere, Wis. Legion team by a 10-0 score.

First Meeting

The two teams were slated to meet earlier in the season but rain prevented the clash. Menominee's record, however, installs the Maroons as slight favorites over the Escanaba Cubs.

The opening game between Gladstone and Munising appears to be a similar toss-up. Munising has the better record, with two wins posted over Bark River and losses to Menominee and Escanaba. Gladstone has four losses, but again the foes have not yet faced each other in a previous game.

Chriske Or Boddy

Coach Al Ness of Escanaba today declined to name his starting pitcher. He will make a late choice between Righthander Jack Chriske and Southpaw Fred Boddy. Dick Cass, righthander, is the third man on the Cub mound staff and will see action in the tournament.

Remainder of the Cub starting lineup will see Jo Jo Johnston behind the plate, Paul Gunderman at first, Ed Lindquist at second, John Martinac at third, Pete Kutches at short, Tip Larmay in left field, Paul Baldwin in center and Francis Artley in right. Held in reserve will be Outfielders Tom Brien and Jim Christensen, Infielders Bob Sendenburgh and Hugh Ray and Catcher Bill Maycunich.

Gladstone will open with either Tom Cannon or Wayne Marmilick on the mound, with Cannon probably working the first game and Marmilick the second. Duane Peterson will catch, John Alworden first, Francis Rabitoy second, Tom Moreay short, Lowell LaPlant third, with Norm Boutilier, Dick Switzer, Ed Farrell, Herman LaFave and Jim Bratonia sharing outfield duties.

White Birch, Westby Softball Teams Win

White Birch blanked Paper Mill last night by an 8-0 score as Ronnie King tossed a three-hitter under the lights at Memorial field.

Harry Lancour was the other half of the winning battery. White Birch reached Tom Elegeert for eight hits. Dave Larson caught for Paper Mill.

Westby's Service won 9-8 game from Clairmont Transfer in the opener. The winners played with eight men, Kenny Buckland pitching and Bill Mulvaney catching.

Art Peterson and Jack Courneene were the Clairmont battery.

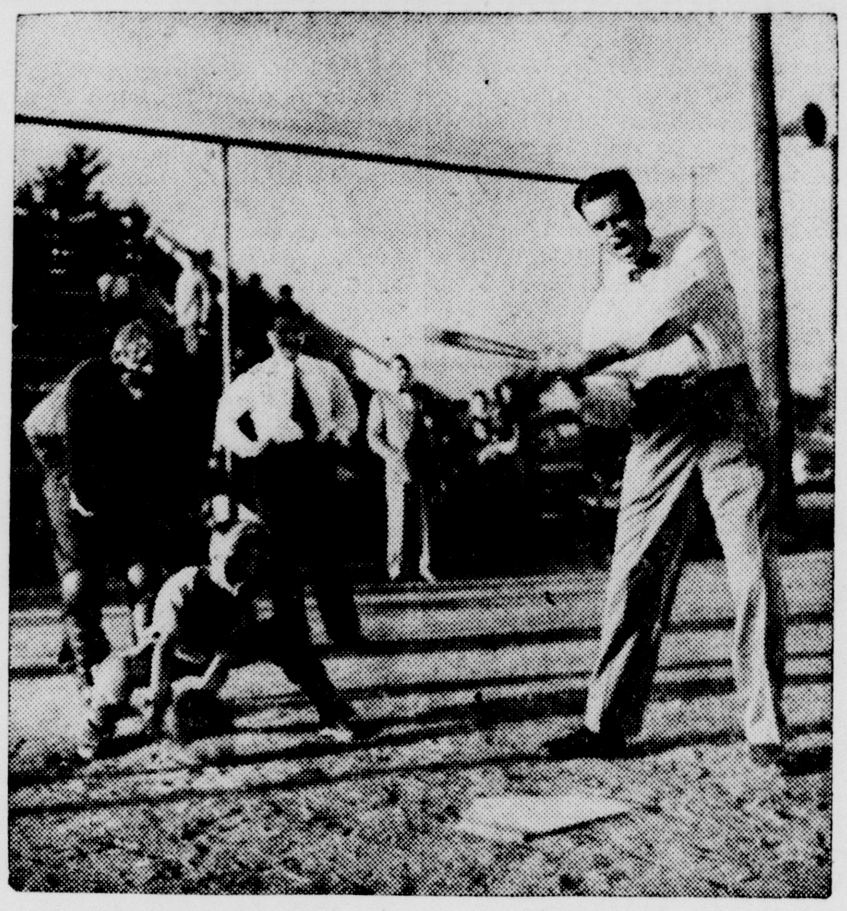
Babe Ruth Leaves $360,000 Estate

NEW YORK—(AP)—Babe Ruth, who made an estimated $1,425,000 in a quarter century of baseball, left a net estate of $360,000.

Final figures on the estate —whittled somewhat by the home run king's spending habits—were approved yesterday by estate tax appraiser Samuel E. Lepler.

Ruth, who died of cancer three years ago at the age of 53, left his widow $5,000 and a life interest in a $179,611 trust fund.

When the widow dies, ten per cent of the wealth goes to the foundation that Ruth dedicated to "The Kids of America." The other 90 per cent will go to two adopted daughters.



THE GOVERNOR WHIFFS—Gov. G. Mennen Williams displays his batting form in a recent Little League attraction at Memorial field. Also pictured are Catcher Billy Lindstrom, Umpire Gus Maycunich and Senator Blair Moody in the background. Gov. Williams is shown swinging at a pitch thrown by Kenny Schwalbach. Catcher Lindstrom will be behind the plate for the Little League all-stars in Sunday's game against St. Joe at Memorial field. The game is scheduled as a booster affair to help raise funds to send an Escanaba Little League entry to the state tournament at Midland.

Bears Are Host To Hermansville Today

The Escanaba Bears will be host to Hermansville in a 5:45 exhibition clash at the city diamond this afternoon.

Jack Beck, big righthander, will handle the pitching duties with the regular Bear lineup intact. Escanaba previously defeated the Hermansville Redskins in a league outing but had the decision reversed by the Tri-County protest board for use of an ineligible player.

Mel Sandrin, Hermansville's No. 1 moundsman, will probably start against the Bears.

Dick Wakefield Now In Class D Circles

LAWTON, Okla.—(AP)—Former Detroit Tiger Dick Wakefield, one-time major league star, becomes a $1 a year coach today.

He will serve with the Lawton, Okla. club of the class D Sooner State league.

After he was released by the Oakland Oaks early this year, Wakefield was guest of honor at a Lawton celebration.

The club wanted him to take a coaching job then, but he turned it down. Now, however, he has reconsidered.

Tigers Terrible In 16-9 Defeat

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers would just as soon not talk about Wednesday if you don't mind.

What happened?

Well, now, er . . That's a little hard to explain. But today they play the Philadelphia Athletics some more. Fred Hutchinson and Hank Borowy will pitch in the twin bill.

And Friday, the Boston Red Sox blow into town. That ought to be a real rip-snorting series. The Sox are hot.

Wha Hoppen

Marlin Stuart is due to pitch the opener of that series for the Tigers. He's developed a slider recently. Looks real good, he does.

But what happened Wednesday?

Aw, er . . . Catcher Joe Ginsberg has been doing pretty good recently, too. He got a homer against the A's yesterday. Gene Bearden, he got another one, a three run job.

Yeah, yeah. But what happened?

Attendance wasn't very good. Only 4,136 fans turned out. After all, you can't expect a team to do too good if there's not too much of a crowd.

Worst Defeat

And they did beat the A's Tuesday. The score there was 8 to 5.

It's Wednesday we were talking about.

Oh, all right, the Tigers lost. they got beat, 16 to 9. That's the worst beating they've taken all year.

Five Detroit pitchers gave up 20 hits to the seventh place Athletics. What's more, the Tigers committed four errors, two by George Kell.

Jersey Joe Left Hooks Himself To World's Heavyweight Championship

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, an amazing old man of the ring who wouldn't be licked, today held the world's heavyweight championship in an astounding climax to an almost unbelievable saga of the ring.

Today plans were in motion for a September return meeting between the brown Cinderella man and the beaten champion, Ezzard Charles, either in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, or New York. Pittsburgh, with a city record turnout of 28,272 for its first heavyweight title show at Forbes Field, looked the likely winner of the fistic plum.

Oldest To Win Title

At 37, Jersey Joe last night became the oldest man ever to win boxing's most prized bauble when he flattened the superbly conditioned Charles in 55 seconds of the seventh round of their 15-round bout. A left hook to the jaw sent Charles to the canvas.

It was the ancient Camden battler's fifth crack at the championship—two more chances than any other challenger ever got at the heavyweight crown—and the devout father of six said, "I thank God for the chance and for helping me to win.

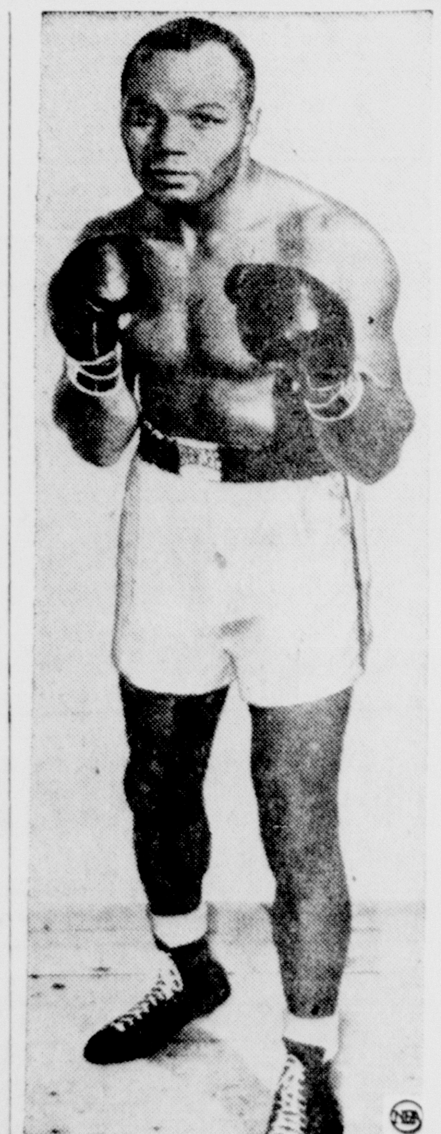
"I'm thankful to everyone," said Walcott who had twice seen the crown slip out of his eager fingers. "I'm going to be a fighting champion—and Charles will get his chance.

"I got him with a left hook to the jaw," said Joe with a big grin on his face. Only moments before tears coursed down his cheeks as he realized his glorious moment of triumph.

"I just got hit," said the crestfallen Charles in the stillness of a loser's dressing room.

Charles had a lump under his right eye and a cut on his lower lip that required two stitches.

"I don't know what it was tonight but he seemed more aggressive than ever. He was taking chances with haymaker punches and leaving himself wide open but I couldn't seem to do anything about it. I guess I was waiting for later when he would tire out."



Joe Walcott

Walcott Plan

"I could have gone on and on," said Walcott. "I kept banging him to the body early in the fight to bring his guard down. We had planned that all along. Then I was to throw my right to make him throw his right in return and when he would open for a left counter. I got in some good left hooks earlier in the fight. After our Detroit fight I knew he was a target for a left hook. The moment came in the seventh when I got him with that hook.

"I sort of knew I was going to win from the moment Jake Mintz, (Charles' manager) started that commotion before the fight about the judge," Joe said. "I knew this was going to be my night."

Out On Back

A perfect left hook dropped Charles on his face. The champ tried to pull himself up at the count of nine. He partially raised himself and then toppled on his back—out.

Walcott was ahead at the time of the knockdown. Referee Buck McTiernan had him in front, 5-1; Judge Charley Daggert—subject of a violent Mintz protest that held up the fight 10 minutes and brought a suspension to Jake—had Walcott ahead 4-1-1, while Judge Stewart (Red) Robinson had it even, 3-3. The AP scorecard had Walcott in the lead, 4-2.

Up until the end, it had been a tame fight with each contestant waiting for the other to lead.

Manager Suspended

Walcott's victory was balm for the bitter disappointment of his split decision loss to Joe Louis in '47—a verdict that brought a storm of controversy and made Walcott a popular figure. It also brought him riches to make up for the years of poverty when he couldn't get any fights and was forced to go on relief.

Old Joe will collect a check of about $50,000. Charles will receive about $100,000.

The fight grossed $245,004, at the gate. Air rights brought in another $100,000.

Mintz, meanwhile, found himself under suspension, pending an Aug. 7 hearing in Philadelphia, for his vociferous objections to Daggert, "an eastern official."

"We were supposed to use only local officials," said Jake.

Charles weighed 182 to Walcott's 194.

Al's Tavern Trips Liberty Loan 10-2

Al's Tavern made every hit count last night as they scored 10 runs on the same number of hits in downing Liberty Loan 10-2.

Cliff Larsen, winning pitcher, gave up eight hits, two of them home runs, hit in succession in the sixth innng by Breitzman and Jim McCarthy, accounting for both the losers' tallies. Batteries were C. Larsen and C. Gafner for Al's, and Chouinard and Mongam for the losers.

Fifteen Missing Faces In Green Bay Packer Roster

Packer Head Coach Gene Ronzani looked over the Missing Faces File today and discovered a list of fifteen names.

Five of those signatures will remain missing because they are presently in the employee of Uncle Sam—Offensive Halfback Larry Coutre, Guard Len Szafaryn, Defensive Backs Wally Dreyer and Bob Forte, and the incomparable Defensive Center Clayton Tonnemaker.

A survey around the National Football League shows that the Packers, by virtue of losing five top stars, were the hardest hit by the Korean war. In Tonnemaker, Dreyer and Forte, Uncle Sam has snapped up one-half of Ronzani's efensive platoon. Coutre was a scat replacement for Billy Grimes at right half and Szafaryn was a bulwark in the line.

Girard In Baseball

Three other names were noted in the MFF. One is Paul Christman, the onetime Chicago Cardinal quarterback who bolstered inexperienced Tobin Rote last fall. Christman announced his retirement last winter but left the door open with this remark: "If I ever did anything in football again I'd want to do it for Green Bay."

In the threesome with Christman are Al Baldwin, the pass catching end, and Jug Girard, the Marinette halfback. Baldwin said the other day he plans to play football in Canada. Ronzani who figures Baldwin can become another Tom Fears—in the National league—has accepted a wait-and-see policy toward Baldwin.

Girard currently is playing baseball for Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in the Class A Eastern League. Jug probably won't make up his mind until shortly before practice.

Unsigned Vets

Other veterans still unsigned are Backs Bob Summerhays, and Ted Fritsch; ends Dan Orlich and Ted Cook; center Ed Neal; tackle Ed Ecker; and Chuck Drulis. These players likely will be in the fold come the opening of training at Grand Rapids, Minnesota August 1.

Two weeks from today, the Packers will be well into their training schedule at the Minnesota site. The squad is scheduled to leave Packertown July 31 or Aug. 1 and dive into rugged training sessions prior to opening non-conference play against the Chicago Cardinals Aug. 25 here.

Ronzani will get his first look at the Pack under fire when the athletes compete in a Fish Bowl intra-squad game at Duluth August 10.

Ronzani and his staff, Coaches Dick Plasman, Ray Mc Lean and Tarz Taylor, have been busy the last three weeks mapping strategy. Trainer Bud Jorgensen visited Grand Rapids the other day and found training facilities ideal. The camp was used by the Philadelphia Eagles two seasons.

FATHER

There are some who miss you sadly,
And find the time long since you went,
While we think of you daily and hourly
And try to be brave and content.
But we have shed many tears in silence
And breathed many sighs of regret;
For you were ours, we'll always remember.

Sheep Rush Across Border, Meet Rifles

SKOPLJE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — It's worth your hide to venture across the border from Yugoslavia into Bulgaria these days. Thirteen sheep found that out recently. They decided the grass grew greener on the other side of the border, and crossed over.

The invasion didn't catch the Bulgarian guards napping. In precise military fashion, they began an encircling movement and then opened fire. Seven sheep became lamb chop luxuries for the guardsmen's mess. Six scared but unscathed survivors hotfooted it for home.

U-M Display Shows Irish Hills Back 15,000 Years Ago

ANN ARBOR — A piece of Michigan's Irish Hills and some of their inhabitants of 15,000 years ago have been reproduced in a new diorama just added to the University of Michigan Museums.

Interest in the exhibit is centered on a group of mastodons, elephant-like creatures, feeding on trees and shrubs. At one side of the natural habitat scene a giant beaver, with a broad flat tail, is working beside a pond. When the animal was living he was four feet high and as big as a black bear. In the trees beside the pond stands a native Michigan moose. All of there animals are now extinct.

Unique feature of the life-like display is a beautiful changing sunset. The colors in the sky gradually change by means of a system of reflectors, lenses, and a color wheel taking about a minute to complete a cycle. The changing sunset in the diorama is used for the first time in the United States.

The entire diorama was created by George Marchand, well known museum artist. Marchand made the animal models of wax patterning them after skeletons and restorations in the Museum. Long hairy covering, which the mastadons are believed to have had, are represented on the models by coarse flax and hemp.

Trees and shrubs of the period shown in the diorama are made of various common weeds, like goldenrod and shepherd's purse. These have been treated to preserve them and colored to give a realistic look.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Thomas C. Harris, jr., second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Harris of 500 Ludington street, Escanaba, and husband of Mrs. Cynthia V. Harris of 678 37th street, Oakland, Calif., is serving aboard the minesweeper USS Waxbill in the Far East.

Harris, who was ordered back to active military service Aug. 12, 1950, first entered the naval service Sept. 13, 1943.

Before entering the Navy, he was graduated from St. Joseph's high school.

Clarice L. Sundberg Of Ensign In Waves

Clarice L. Sundberg, seaman recruit, WAVES, USN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Sundberg of Route 1, Ensign recently changed from the civilian to the military life.

A U. S. Navy recruit, she has now completed training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. For her, the past few weeks have been filled with drill, learning to identify aircraft and ships; how, when, why, and whom to salute; the background of Naval courtesy, history, organization, and how to live harmoniously and efficiently as a member of a large and complex organization.

Now ready for further assignment, the Wave will be transferred to duty within the shore establishment of the Navy, to one of certain foreign stations, or to a service school for specialized training.

North-South Union Calls For Two-Party Presidential Slate

CINCINNATI—(AP)—A Republican committee for North-South union within the Republican party today called for nomination next year of a midwestern Republican for president and a southern Democrat for vice president.

The candidates would run on the GOP ticket in the north and on the Democratic ticket in the south.

The committee was started here 17 months ago at a conference attended by a number of Republican leaders from Ohio and Texas. William J. Reardon, Cincinnati attorney and industrialist, is chairman of the organization.

Reardon said in a statement today, "x x x this committee is convinced that the welfare of the nation requires practical political cooperation between constructive Northern Republicans and constructive Southern Democrats in 1952.

"Accordingly, this committee intends to support for president a candidate such as Senator Taft, Senator Dirkesen, Senator Wherry, Wayland Brooks of Illinois, Senator Mundt, or other kindred Republicans.

"For vice president on the Republican ticket, (it) intends to support a candidate such as Martin Dies of Texas, Senator Byrd of Virginia, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, Mayor Morrison of New Orleans, or other candidates approved by representative southern leaders.

Michigan Regulation Sets Margin Of Error In Packaged Foods

LANSING—(AP)— A regulation setting the margin of error allowed in weights of packaged food products today had the approval of the state agriculture commission.

The regulation sets the variations that will be allowed because of moisture and climatic conditions. Generally, it provides that any lot of food must average to the weight marked on the package although slight variations may be allowed in individual units.

The packaging of flour, potatoes, cereal products, canned goods and numerous other types of food come under the regulation.

Also given commission approval was a regulation prohibiting the handling of poultry at fairs by anyone except judges. Purpose of the rule is to avoid the possible spreading of poultry diseases.

The commission approved the employment of Wilfred Davis, of Dundee, a graduate of the Michigan State College veterinary school, as state institutional farm veterinarian. He succeeds Dr. John Quinn, who is retiring to private business at Elkton.
